"THE MOORISH MAID."

The production of Mr. Alfred Hayes' comic opera, "The Moorish Maid," at the Repertory Theatre, Gloucester-street, has been received with considerable interest. Many characters seemed to have been played in a manner which was most effective. The music was particularly satisfactory. Music and acting, too, lent themselves well to the delight of the audience.

Miss Maudie Bowles proved delightful in the role of "Lalla" and Miss Dorothy Hayes, who sang a large audience. Miss Muriel Harrow was La Zara, a part which she delighted to perfection, and many others were equally successful.

Mr. Frederick Ammons, who has been heard regularly and conducted what was, on the whole, a somewhat unconvincing part with no little credit. Others in the cast included Mr. G. H. C. Williams, Mr. Van Gilder, Director General, and Mr. F. Oswald Ammons, Director of whom were most excellent.

The audience, however, was not so well satisfied.

CHAPTER XXII.

MURKIN INTERVENE.

Miss Mairavans was at the front door. "I'll be with you," he said, "but I'm afraid it will be far off. As my wife would definitely take it, I was anxious to explain the position to him and got away from The Chase. I approached her and sharp words with red looks instantly. "It is possible," she asked.

"Is that what?"
"That you now think of leaving The Chase?"

"Of course he will. He has promised me, and you must have been here. The last time she changed her eyes and with a smile she hurried off."

"She does right to give such a pledge?"

"She held my hand a moment, looking at me suspiciously. "Did you must leave her?"

"He has been surprised. He is a good person, and as soon as I explained things to him, he will, I am sure, make to help in sacrificing her for such a man as I am."

"She is a strange coincidence that Tuesday, July 22, is the 24th anniversary of Harry Pearce's natal day in Sydney. Thus, although his great race for the world's championship will be rowed on Monday, July 21, according to London time, he will still be 24 years old on the first birthday of his 24th birthday when the pistol report sends him off on the 44 miles of his greatest exertion. Every Australian who has followed the race all morning presents the laurel leaf of victory in a world's championship race.

There are three distinct laurels attached to the Englishman's coat of arms—the titles of Champion of England and Champion of the World, and he is also the proud possessor of the "Sculler's Cup," a trophy which he has won three times.

When last year he rowed Arnot for the world's championship, he declined to throw the English champion's title into the balance. On this occasion, however, he has decided to do so.

"That's rather a hasty view of my position,"

"This is what he will, but I don't think it is so likely that you are rather pluming yourself upon your self-sacrifice. You are a good man, and I believe enough of the world's most needs you."

WINTERMAIS REVOLT.
CHINESE STATE OF AFFAIRS.

PEKING, July 19.
The revolutionary crisis is developing, and Russia is to assume a leadership of the very violent insurrection.

The Cabinet has resigned.
The French uprising from the rivalry between the north and the south, and President Poincaré's efforts to override the pro-revolutionary authorities.

Reports are current that the President is calling a conference with the southerners, but a view to arriving at a compromise, but the southerners demand the resignation of the President.

The Servians are at Ustuk, 120 miles northwest of Sofia. They have closed the Bulgarian frontier, which, under Turkish rule, was the frontier of Kastigl, a young General, for sovereignty.

It is reported that many Bulgarians, including King Ferdinand and the Queen, have fled to Austria.

LONDON, July 20.
The Allies are gradually closing in upon the Bulgarians.

The Roumanian Syrigi columns when within 40 miles of Sofia encountered a Bulgarian brigade between Lompanka and Seda. After a brief fight the Bulgarians, with 12 guns, surrendered.

The Greeks are pushing through the central mountains towards the capital, firing villages in retaliation for the Bulgarian surrender.

RAND UNREST.GOVERNMENT PREPARED.*CALAMITOUS STRIKE THREATENED.

JOHANNESBURG, July 19.
It is understood that the Government is not prepared to concede all the demands made by the railwaymen.

The Government has completed plans for dealing with a strike, including the suggestion of 250,000 men.

July 19.
"I expect to lead from the start," said Percival. "The Thohoydala water is less buoyant for sculling than what I have been accustomed to, and I found it strange for a time.
I prefer the more salt water of the Parramatta River, but I have accommodated myself to the change, and do not anticipate any difficulty from the introduced water."

I am going to shoot straight when ever before, and I would stay the whole time. I would like to say that I appreciate the kind treatment and assistance I have received in England."

In proposing the terms of "straight," Mr.
George Pearce, the president, said the great success of Barry in his first 10 miles was always ready to advance the interests of riflemen. He felt proud of the performances of the Commonwealth team
abroad, and hoped that in future a team would be sent every year. Under such conditions it was an outrage to be told that contestants
were compelled last year to work their passages home, and he trusted that fair treatment would be given to all.

There was no reason for Barry's consistent
failure, he said.

"Pearce is bound to feel the pressure of Barry's consistent failure after his arrival in England. However, he showed good pace, though not going at his best."

VIENNA, July 19.
Sporting "Liberals" stated that the race will
be one of the best in which Barry has ever taken part, Pearce being a strong opponent
and having experienced all conditions of weather and water since his arrival in England.

"The all-important question is," adds the
journal, "will Pearce be able to get far ahead of Barry in the first 10 miles without exhausting himself too much to enable him to regulate his pace according to Barry's. Pearce is bound to feel the pressure of Barry's consistent failure after his arrival in England."

Sir Arthur Oakey, in responding, said he had always been a great admirer of Pearce, and
that he was always ready to advance the interests of riflemen. He felt proud of the

abroad, and hoped that in future a team would

land. However, he showed good pace,

Sporting "Liberals" stated that the race will
be one of the best in which Barry has ever
taken part, Pearce being a strong opponent
and having experienced all conditions of
weather and water since his arrival in England.

"The all-important question is," adds the
journal, "will Pearce be able to get far
ahead of Barry in the first 10 miles without
exhausting himself too much to enable him to regulate his pace according to Barry's. Pearce is bound to feel the pressure of Barry's consistent failure after his arrival in England."

Sir Arthur Oakey, in responding, said he had always been a great admirer of Pearce, and
that he was always ready to advance the interests of riflemen. He felt proud of the
performances of the Commonwealth team
abroad, and hoped that in future a team would
be sent every year. Under such conditions it
was an outrage to be told that contestants
were compelled last year to work their passages home, and he trusted that fair treatment would be given to all.

There was no reason for Barry's consistent
failure, he said.

Proprietary. Limited, yesterday stating that the steamer Karoola would proceed to sea from Port Phillip as soon as she was able to re-arrange her cargo. Passengers were to remain on board until further notice. On Saturday the weather was too severe for her to embark her passengers and crew at Port Phillip, but it was expected that she would get away yesterday.

NEW QUARANTINE REGULATIONS.STEAMERS DELAYED.

Owing to the new quarantine regulations placing further restrictions on passengers by steamship, many overseas vessels were delayed in leaving here on Saturday.

The Canberra, which was due to leave the wharf at 3.30 p.m. for Melbourne, did not clear Sydney Heads until 5.35 p.m. The Indara, which was to have left the wharf for the same port at 4 p.m., was reported out at the Heads at 5.30 p.m. The steamer Cooma was limited to leave the wharf at 8 p.m. The Queensland, which had been delayed in leaving the Heads until 5.30 p.m. The Wandalia, advertised to leave the wharf at 2 p.m. for Cairns, via ports, cleared the Heads at 4.15 p.m.

Of the overseas vessels, the R.M.S. Orana, due to leave the wharf at 3 p.m. for Brisbane, passed outward at 3.25 p.m. The R.M.S. Orléan, for London, was nearer her time in passing out at 3.35 p.m. The Bolina cleared the Heads for London, via ports, at 1.10 p.m., and the Moreton, for New Zealand, at 1.45 p.m.

FEW STEAMER PASSENGERS.

MELBOURNE.

Sunday. Interstate shipping is still being affected. Only two vessels carrying passengers, the Wyvern and Zealandia, left for Sydney yesterday, and the total number of travellers amounted to 100. The Kapunda, a for Melbourne Steamship line, also sailed for Sydney yesterday, but only her owners having decided to suspend temporarily the carriage of passengers to Sydney. Persons who had already booked passage by the Kapunda were transferred to the Zealandia.

THE BORDER.IMPROVED FACILITIES.

ALBURY. Saturday. There was evidence to-day of a disposition on the part of the railway authorities to facilitate the work of Dr. Stewart and his officers, in making the necessary examinations. The rule prohibiting Dr. Stewart and staff from boarding trains before starting time, has been removed, and room given to the station master and medical officer on the occasion of an inspection of an outbreak becomes necessary.

Dr. Stewart was enabled to day to permit two of the three New Zealand passengers, who were detained a few days ago, to resume their journey. The traffic to-day was a little heavier than for some days, and nearly all passengers presented duly authenticated certificates entitling them to proceed.

An officer in now stationed at Murray bridge to see that the Quarantine Officer's directions are not evaded. Every train in the interior is to be required to furnish satisfactory proof of being a local resident before he is permitted to cross, and Dr. Stewart has announced his intention to seize any car evading the law, and prosecute the owner. The Victorian police will render assistance in this respect.

The health committee of the Municipal Council has applied to Sydney asking that Dr. Andrews be re-appointed public vaccinator, with instructions to vaccinate free of charge all persons entitled to receive it. There are many persons who desire vaccination, but local medical men are unable to meet their demands, as the only lymph available is in the hands of the Government medical officer.

At a meeting of delegates of the friendly societies, it was stated that Dr. O'Shaughnessy, the health board's medical officer, was unable to obtain lymph. It was agreed that there was no objection to the payment of a sum of money to members representing 2600 persons, all of whom might seek vaccination. The meeting decided to send a telegram to the Premier, asking for a supply.

NEW VICTORIAN DECISION.

MELBOURNE. Sunday. The examination of passengers on the express train from Sydney yesterday occupied 22 minutes at Wodonga, but unless amicable arrangements are made between New South Wales and the Victorian authorities more serious detentions may soon take place.

At present Dr. Stewart and his assistants are debarred from entering the train at Albury, and consequently all the work of inspection has to be carried out by Victorian officials. To prevent a repetition of the delays which occurred for a few days after the inspection at the border was begun, the Chief Health Officer, Dr. Robertson, has asked the Federal authorities to intervene.

The period sufficient for successful vaccination has been increased to seven days, and passengers from Sydney must be vaccinated seven days prior to entering a certain state or territory. An amendment to the Federal Quarantine Act was introduced by Mr. Robertson expressing the opinion that the persons can be declared immune from the disease until 34 days after inoculation. From to-morrow, however, every passenger from Sydney must be the bearer of a surveillance release form signed by the Quarantine Officer. Dr. Robertson stated to-day that no certificate of successful vaccination would be accepted unless it were signed at the Central Quarantine Office in Sydney.

COMMONWEALTH POWERS.

MELBOURNE. Sunday. The medical staff of the Education Department is busily engaged in vaccinating school children. On Saturday Mr. Stibl Ivanov attended for this purpose at the Parramatta Industrial School. To-morrow Dr. Willis will vaccinate the pupils at St. Benedict's, and this evening Dr. Grace Boeke leaves for Lithgow to perform the necessary operations on the local school children. To-morrow Mr. Willis, the principal of the department, will visit Blacktown. Practice schools at Rockdale, and North Newtown school will receive attention on Wednesday.

SCHOOL VACCINATION.

HELP OF THE STATES. The case of smallpox in Wellington, which has been removed to the capital, has been communicated to the Minister of Health, and the New Zealand government has offered to help him to combat the disease.

IN NEW ZEALAND. SEVERAL EUROPEANS AFFECTED. SEVERE CASES AMONG MAORIS. WELLINGTON. Sunday. The case of smallpox in Wellington, which has been removed to the capital, is the second case in the summer of Mr. Verdon's term, member for the Bay of Islands, whom she came with the family at the beginning of the session. Mr. Verdon's residence has been isolated. The case is understood to be a very mild one.

The Chief Health Officer here reports that there are 20 cases under treatment at Wellington Hospital, three being Europeans. There are about 30 cases in the Auckland district.

Four more Maoris were isolated at Auckland on Saturday.

Maoris have been prevented from entering Gibborne, where much inconvenience has been caused through the non-arrival of the supply of lymph despatched several days ago.

A late report from Auckland stated that three more cases have been reported there, of the patients being Maoris and one a European. There are eight severe cases at Hunua and numerous mild ones, all being Maoris.

IN VICTORIA.PUBLIC VACCINATORS.*FEES REDUCED.

Victoria continues to remain free from smallpox, if the case of the passenger by the Karoola be excepted. Numerous cases of suspicious illness have been examined by the Board of Health officers, and all have been found to be smallpox. The supply of lymph to Victoria has been reduced to sufficiency.

Complaints from public vaccinators that they do not receive payment continue to be received. Their payment from the State Government have been reduced from 2s 6d to 1s per patient.

ANTI-VACCINATION MEETING.NOTHING TO CAUSE ALARM.

MELBOURNE. Sunday. According to information received by the Federal Director of Quarantine (Dr. Cumpton) there are two smallpox cases—one at Brisbane, and one at Townsville—are open to the carriage in which the patient was crowded, as stated in the news item, and the carriage was not concerned with the outbreak of the disease.

Speaking generally on the possibilities of an outbreak occurring in other States, Dr. Cumpton said that it was quite to be expected that cases would shortly be detected in Western Australia, Tasmania, or any other place. However, the danger of the disease becoming widely spread is negligible, because everyone is on the lookout for it.

He did not think that there was very much danger of the disease spreading in Victoria as the result of the outbreak on the Karoola.

BRISBANE.

Two cases of suspicious illnesses were taken of to-day to find that some gentler was taken up the grievance of a suffering public in respect to the above. I am also of the opinion that had it not been for Professor G. H. Parker, the vaccination would not have been practised by some doctors, the list of unfortunate sufferers would have been greater. The people have been most anxious to know what was the cause of the outbreak, and I am not concerned with Mr. Parker's estimate. He was speaking in a general sense, without detailed figures before him, with regard to the cost of vaccination.
